HM3

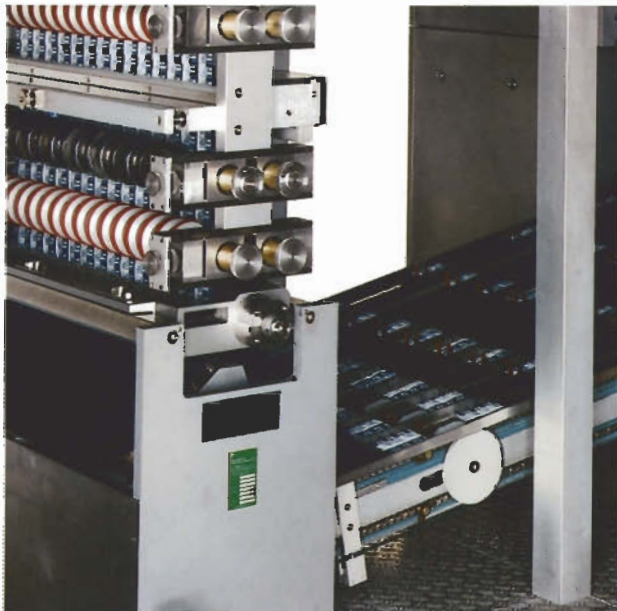

160 to 500

Dosing unit for 2 different products (HM3/290)

Four-side sealed pouches/sachets are commonly used as portion packs for free flowing granulated products. Whether dry syrups, flu medicine or effervescent granules have to be packed, the Siebler HM3 heat-sealing machines will produce tightly sealed sachets with very accurate dosing of product.

No matter whether single, double or multiple sachets there is plenty of space for product information and promotion.

Transfer system to stacker/cartoner (HM3/500)

HM3/160

The Siebler HM3/160, the smallest Siebler sachet packaging machine is available in 1 - 4 lane execution. With its maximum sealing width of 160 mm the Siebler HM3/160 can seal up to 400 pouches per minute. The modular design helps reduce to a minimum the time required for a format change-over.

Type	Foil width	Lanes	Sachets/h
HM3/160	160 mm	1 - 4	14. - 24.000
HM3/290	290 mm	2 - 6	21. - 36.000
HM3/320	320 mm	4 - 8	28. - 48.000
HM3/500	500 mm	6 - 14	50. - 84.000

Detailed data sheets are available of each machine type

HM3/290

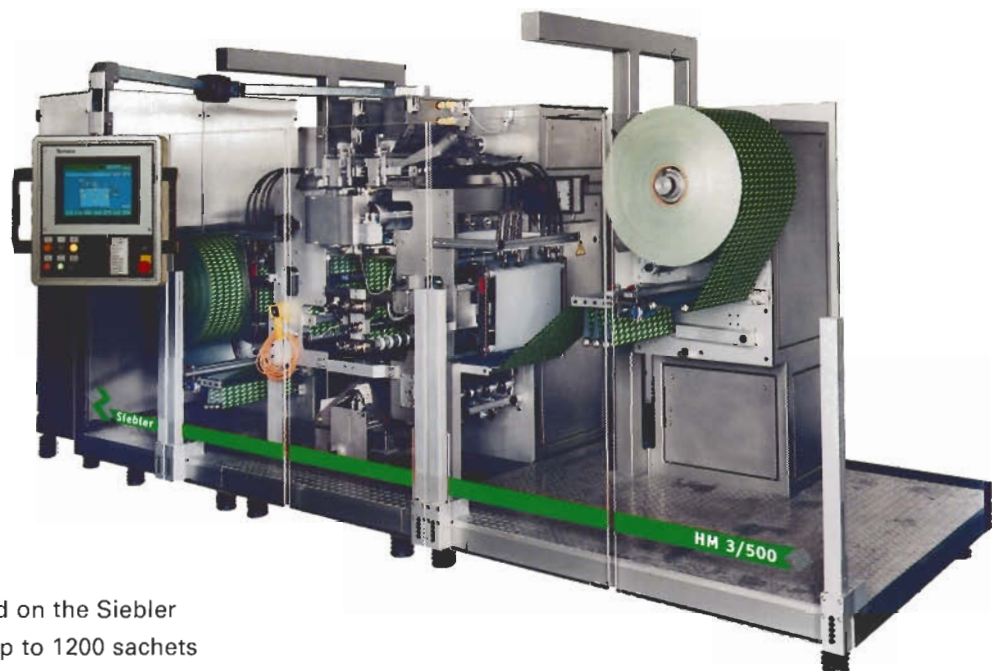

The Siebler HM3/290 produces up to 600 sachets per minute. With a maximum sealing width of 290 mm it can be equipped with format parts of up to 6 lanes.

HM 3/320

The modular sealing station of the Siebler HM3/320 enables higher sealing speeds which results in a production capacity of up to 900 pouches per minute. In combination with the Siebler HM 3 various secondary packaging systems such as stacking units and cartoners can be offered as turn key lines.

HM 3/500

Market leading products are sealed on the Siebler HM3/500 at a production rate of up to 1200 sachets per minute for a 12 lane format. Despite its high capacity, the Siebler HM3/500 remains flexible because of the modular design of the workstations.
